CARONTAWAN

1984

Carontawan meaning "little town on the hill", made its debute in 1918 in a soft cover edition that grew enthusiastically out of a senior project. So began the long tradition that has led us to the Mansfield University 1984 Carontawan.

Yearbooks tend to chronicle life. They reflect the wide range of changes that take place in our lives, in our community in our nation. So often we are not aware of this change, but it is all around us, minute by minute, day by day. In glancing back through previous Carontawans you can sense that change at Mansfield. As a community and an institution the change has been simultaneous for neither could be the same without the other.

As you look through the 1984 edition try to remember you looking at history, at change. For represented here is all that is new at Mansfield University in 1984. We hope it brings you many happy and fond memories.

Beset by problems stemming from old equipment in use since WNTE"s inception Keith Smeal, John O'Dea, Mark Gehron, and the WNTE general staff launched a year long renovation program. With the help of Student Government and campus support those efforts paid off with a new state of the art stereo control board as well as a newly remodeled control room. Thanks to this type of dedication, Media at Mansfield University continues to grow and expand.

PRESIDENTS MESSAGE

What should be the character of a message, placed by the President, in the University Yearbook? In attempting to answer that question, I examined several university annuals.

I devoted special attention to the "President's Message". I learned that some messages contain philosophilcal statements describing the role, value and status of higher education.

Some Presidents use the "message" as an opportunity to extol their university and to remind graduates of the happiness associated with their "college days".

Presidents sometimes create a message that encourages their most recent alumni to support the development efforts of the university. These messages include subtle references to annual giving campaigns, student recruitment efforts, and membership in local alumni clubs.

Each message is apporpriate. Infact, I had to resist the temptation to elaborate on identical themes. However, I have selected a more personal message. I'm pleased you chose to study at Mansfiedd University. I'm happy because you decided to become a part of our campus community. Many are proud of you and offer their congratulations upon the occassion of your graduation from Mansfield University.

SPECIAL NOTICES

The yearbook has recently enjoyed a rebirth of enthusiasm at Mansfield University. With that in mind and the many questions that have arisen during the past year, we thought it best that certain points be explained.

Groups & organizations: All groups and organizations wishing to have their pictures taken should contact the photography editor late in the fall semester or early in the spring semester. Composites will be accepted. All fraternities & sororities wishing to have their goals and purposes outlined in the book should forward such information to the editor in the fall semester.

Features: Any departments wishing to have an outstanding student or professor featured in the yearbook should notify the editor as soon as possible so arrangements can be made. Critera for such is strictly up to the departments/individuals involved.

Special requests for inclusion of anything in the yearbook can be directed to the Editor at 4288 or the Student Services Office, 4403.

The Carontawan is open to all students/interested individuals. Applications for staff positions are available at the office G-17 South Hall (basement). Volunteers are welcomed and encouraged. A special note to art majors and english majors: Work on a yearbook provides invaluable hands-on experience in basic graphic design, layout and paste-up, which in itself is almost a necessity for anyone entering the art field, especially the commercial aspects. For english majors, an opportunity to provide journalistic quality writing for the book is also desirable training. Anyone interested in contributing whatever skills or talents they may possess is encouraged to join.

This page is dedicated to the memory of all those brave young men who gave their lives to the service of their country in Lebanon and Grenada. And to the many heroes unamed and unsung who follow the colors - We Give Thanks

And take the Helmet of salvation, and the sword of the spirit, which is the word of God: For the word of God is alive and powerful, and sharper than any two edged sword. Ephesians 6:17, Hebrews 4:12

CLOSING

WITH PEN IN HAND . . . .

The job of compiling, assembling, and completion of a yearbook is an arduous task. Many people have worked for the better part of a year to bring about what you are now looking at. The yearbook staff, few in number, the publishers, many more in number and finally you the student and staff of Mansfield University. All have worked, produced, and lived what is now the substance of the 1984 Carontawan. The substance being memories, moments in time, circumstances never to be repeated again.

Much thought has gone into conceptualizing and bringing together those moments, those memories. As someone who has grown up on the move from region to region I have tried to capture the flavor, the real uniqueness that is Mansfield, and put it in book form. Hopefully any traveler uninformed of Mansfield will be able to pick it up and be enlightened. There are many people to be thanked for cooperating in producing this final product. We feel we have done a good job and we are proud of it. We hope you are too.
